Sir:

In response to the Office Action dated March 24, 2005, and in consideration of the most courteous interview granted to the applicants on June 22, 2005, please amend claims 60-62, 64, 67, 68, 71 and 75 of the above referenced patent application to read as follows:

1. (Original) An implanted medical device which is a cardiosaver device that is designed for rapid treatment of a heart attack of a human patient, the medical device including:

an implanted sensor for detecting the occurrence of the heart attack of the human patient;

an alarm that produces an alarm signal for indicating to the human patient that a heart attack is occurring when the sensor to which the alarm is electrically coupled detects the occurrence of a heart attack; and,
